Ms. Brown,

I hope you had a nice weekend, and thank you for calling me a few minutes ago. To briefly recap what you and I discussed, our client intends to file a Notice of Removal by the end of this week. That Notice of Removal would simply move the case from the Fairfax County Circuit Court, where you filed it, to federal court in the Eastern District of Virginia. Substantively, we are continuing to investigate your allegations, though, and, therefore, the March 3, 2023 deadline to which you previously consented has not changed, in terms of our requested deadline to answer or otherwise respond to your Complaint. My understanding from our conversation is that your position (i.e., that you consent to this March 3, 2023 deadline to respond) has not currently changed, either. However, you and I agreed that you would formally verify by 5 pm this Wednesday (February 8) whether we still have your consent to answer or otherwise respond to the Complaint by March 3.

You also mentioned that you have spoken with multiple attorneys but not yet retained anyone. As I mentioned, should you retain an attorney, please forward them my contact information and have them reach out directly to me and to my colleague, Dionysia Johnson-Massie (djmassie@littler.com) / (404) 760-3901).

Thank you again for your time, and I will look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Alex Berg

Ms. Brown,

Thank you again for returning my call this afternoon. Thank you also for confirming that, according to your records, Amazon was served on the afternoon of January 20, 2023. As you and I discussed, because Littler (our law firm) was very recently retained and needs some time to promptly investigate your allegations, you consented to Amazon having until Friday, March 3, 2023 to respond substantively to the Complaint you filed. We appreciate your courtesy and will prepare and submit a motion to the Court that reflects this consent. Should you need any similar courtesy as this matter proceeds, please let me know, and we will be happy to discuss.

In addition, per your request to schedule a follow-up conversation, we discussed that the afternoon of Monday, February 6, 2023 at 1:00 p.m. works well for each of our schedules. I will follow up shortly with a Zoom invitation.

Kind regards,

Alex Berg
